

RUTH NDJABOUE

Expertise

epidemiology, social inequities, health services, chronic disease, health determinants, knowledge translation

Current Position

Postdoctoral Fellow, Université Laval
Dr. Holly Witteman's lab, Dept of Family & Emerg Medicine

Future Position Pending!

Université of Sherbrooke | nominated for CRC

Education

Bachelor's | Psychology | Université de Yaoundé
MSc | Psychology | Université de Yaoundé
MSc/PhD | Public Health | Université libre de Bruxelles
Ph.D. | Epidemiology & Statistics | Université Laval

Advice to You

- 1) In addition to typical outcomes, take time to know people and be known as a person
- 2) ACCEPT feedback. Training is only good when you are open to critique. Vegetables need sticks to grow straight!

On better diversity for better science:

"Even people who look similar may not be similar on the inside."

Relevant Research

Qualitative inquiry into perspectives of individuals living with type 2 diabetes that genuinely focused on learning from patient expertise, and ensured diversity in sample. More recent focus on inclusivity and patient engagement.

How you can cite her

Ruth.Ndjaboue@fmed.ulaval.ca

Google Scholar

@RutNdjab

LinkedIn